

K-LOVE (in my area 106.7 FM) serves me as a resident of this local community by being my best option for Christian music. There is no other option out there for me to listen to. I don't enjoy the commercials, the vulgar DJ's, and the music that is on other "local" FM stations (101.5 being one example). Those other stations are not family friendly. The effect on this local community should K-LOVE be replaced would be tremendous. I know many people who listen to K-LOVE and listen to it exclusively, like I do. I see many bumper stickers on cars as I drive around this local community (Durham, Chapel Hill, Raleigh, NC). Again, I believe that the service provided by K-LOVE is in the public interest by providing a Christian music station that is simply not available in any other format in this area on FM radio. I think if NPR is going to be allowed, then K-LOVE should certainly not be replaced.
